POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT
University of Nebraska-Lincoln
Assistant Professor of Accountancy

University of Nebraska – Lincoln Assistant Professor. The School of Accountancy invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at Assistant rank beginning August 2017. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is committed to establishing a research presence commensurate with that of our Big Ten Conference affiliates and the Committee on Institutional Cooperation, the academic affiliation of the conference. Candidates are required to hold a Ph.D. in accounting or related discipline from an AACSB accredited College of Business and will be expected to publish research in the top accounting and/or finance journals. Candidates should have a robust research agenda underway. All areas of teaching and research interest will be considered. We are particularly interested in individuals who are strong organizational citizens and interested in being active members of a rich academic community. Salary, benefits, and research support are very competitive and consistent with other Big Ten Universities.

About the College of Business Administration
Under the leadership of Dean Donde Plowman, the research, teaching, and engagement missions of the College have been significantly refocused to align with the affiliation of the Big Ten. As the college continues to build on and further develop its research strength, more than twenty five new faculty have been hired in the past three years and a new 240,000 square foot state-of-the art building is currently under construction. Lincoln, and nearby Omaha, have thriving business communities that have supported academic research and helped to advance the College’s research goals. The College prides itself in being an open and collaborative community.

Additional Information
Lincoln, population 265,000, known for its college-town atmosphere was recently named one of the top five emerging entrepreneurial hotspots in America by Entrepreneurship Magazine and received Google’s 2013 E-City Award for its strong online business community. Lincoln offers the attractions and entertainment opportunities of a metropolitan area and ranked #9 in Forbes 2012 listing of American’s Most Livable Cities and #2 among U.S. cities in the Gallup-Healthways 2011 Well-Being Index, as well as #4 in WalletHub’s 2015 Best Cities for Families ranking. Lincoln boasts low unemployment, low cost of living, and low crime. A strong vision for growth, vibrant downtown, extensive bike trails, numerous golf courses and parks, a wide variety of restaurants, shops and museums, and top college sports teams, help make Lincoln a desirable community. Visit http://admissions.unl.edu/discover/lincoln-life.aspx or http://www.lcoc.com/ for more information.

To apply access requisition F_160146 at http://employment.unl.edu/postings/50518. Click on “Apply to this job” and complete the form. Applicants must also upload: 1) a letter of interest, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) contact information for three references, and 4) one document containing a sample of publications/working papers and evidence of teaching experience and ability. Initial screening of applicants will begin on September 30, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. For specific questions about the position, please contact Dr. Tom Omer at Thomas.omer@unl.edu.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is committed to a pluralistic campus community through affirmative action, equal opportunity, work-life balance, and dual careers. See http://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination.