

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

University of Nebraska - Lincoln Assistant or Associate Professor of Accountancy

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln, School of Accountancy invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant or Associate level to begin in August 2012. Candidates at the Assistant Professor level are required to hold a Ph.D. or DBA degree in accounting, or be near completion of the degree, from an AACSB accredited College of Business. Candidates for Associate Professor are required to hold a Ph.D. or DBA degree in accounting from an AACSB accredited College of Business and have an established record of high quality teaching and research, including publications in the major accounting journals. Senior Assistants or Associates with a record of publications in major accounting journals are encouraged to apply. All areas of teaching and research interest will be considered and we are particularly interested in individuals who are strong organizational citizens and interested in being active members of a rich academic community. The successful candidates will be expected to be significantly involved in the School and College research and graduate programs, including directing doctoral dissertations, mentoring junior faculty (as appropriate), and teaching courses at the undergraduate, Masters, and Ph.D. levels. Salary, benefits, and research support are competitive.

About the College of Business Administration

Under the leadership of Dean Donde Plowman and Associate Deans Kathy Farrell and Ravi Sohi, the research, teaching, and engagement missions of the College have been significantly refocused to align with the university's entrance into the Big Ten. Business Week ranked UNL's MBA program 4th in the country among part-time MBA programs. The college continues to build on and further develop its research strength. Increased support for research and close proximity to thriving business communities of Omaha and Lincoln help advance the college's research goals. The college prides itself in being an open and collaborative community.

Initial screening of applicants will begin September 15, 2011 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should go to <http://employment.unl.edu>, requisition #110490, and click "apply" for this posting. In addition, candidates need to send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, a sample of publications and current research, evidence of teaching experience and ability, and contact information for three references to Dr. Arthur Allen, School of Accountancy, 388 CBA, 1240 R Street, P.O. Box 880488, Lincoln, NE 68588-0488. Email: aallen1@unl.edu.

The University of Nebraska has an active National Science Foundation ADVANCE gender equity program, and is committed to a pluralistic campus community through affirmative action, equal opportunity, work-life balance, and dual careers.
